

PROJECT MANAGER PERMANENT, FULL TIME ROLE

With a strong product pipeline, the company wishes to appoint an enthusiastic and committed Project Manager with solid experience in technical transfer to lead and facilitate the planning and execution of pharmaceutical product development projects. You will be able to forecast program resources, time and cost, and provide advice on strategies to effectively execute programs as well as providing hands on interaction and input with individual project participants/managers and management of projects. The successful candidate will have responsibility for the reporting of resource and budget flows derived from multiple project plans.

You will be experienced in project management within a pharmaceutical company or other regulated industry and have a detailed knowledge of drug development, commercialisation and regulatory processes in both the USA and Europe. Experience in the manufacturing of pharmaceutical or cosmetic products is essential; preferably with semi-solids dose forms. You will be able to anticipate and resolve a variety of issues to mitigate project risks and achieve objectives.

Specialty skills in pharmaceutical manufacturing, contract manufacturer management, with experience in semi-solid manufacture are highly desirable.

Flexibility to travel local and internationally will be required.
